

4. The juvenile is not a proper subject to be dealt with under the provisions of the Missouri Juvenile Code for the following reasons:

A. The offenses alleged involved viciousness, force and violence and the offenses alleged were against a person.

B. Due to the nature and seriousness of the alleged behavior and conduct of the juvenile, the protection of the community requires transfer to a court of general jurisdiction.

C. Due to the seriousness of the juvenile's alleged behavior, the juvenile has demonstrated a need to be confined in a more secure and structured environment than is available in the facilities operated by the Missouri Division of Youth Services or any juvenile detention facility.

D. The juvenile, by his alleged conduct, has exhausted all realistic or reasonable treatment programs available to the Court which might aid in rehabilitation and no suitable facility exists within the juvenile system either locally or state-wide, which offers a reasonable expectation of treatment and/or prospects of rehabilitation of the juvenile within the juvenile justice system.

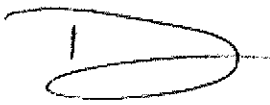

E. The prospects of adequate protection of the public and the likelihood of rehabilitation of the juvenile would not be substantially increased by the court's retention of Juvenile Court jurisdiction.

F. Due to the age of the juvenile (16), the Missouri Division of Youth Services would not have sufficient time to provide the treatment the juvenile needs to afford a reasonable expectation of rehabilitation.

G. In addition, the Court has considered all other factors as set out in Section 211.071.6(1)-(10), RSMo., and determines that the juvenile is not a proper subject to be dealt with under the provisions of the Juvenile Code.

WHEREFORE, it is the Order and Judgment of this Court that the Deputy Juvenile Officer's motion to dismiss the petition to allow prosecution under the general law is granted.
